

For as long as I can remember my mom has always been around water, more specifically drinking water. From a very young age she taught me the importance of making sure the water I drink is always clean. When my mom worked for the drinking water I learned about all kinds of things she would test for especially E. Coli and all the very abs effects it has. Now that I moved to t or c drinking water is huge especially here in the very hot summers. In order for us to maintain a healthy life style we drink a whole lot of water. Keeping it clean really means a lot. Drinking water is important to me because of the environment I live in. Hot weather, dry air and lands, it's improving me that I have water that is safe to drink, cook and clean with. Having clean drinking water is a huge help. The list can go on for ever on the reasons why drinking water is so important to me. All I know for sure is, is that if I didn't have clean drinking water I wouldn't be able to have and do half the the things I do on a day to day basis, from staying healthy and hydrated to cleaning around the house, having clean drinking water will always be a top priority to me.
